PRESIDENT KATSOULEAS
President’s Summary Report

UConn Nation:
Physically distant, socially and globally connected
Responding to COVID-19

- Emergency response team meeting since February
- Guiding principles for decisions
- Communication strategy
- Where we are
  - Students/dorms
  - Staff
  - Research
  - First week of online learning
  - Working with federal and state legislators – health, finances
INTERIM PROVOST AND EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS ELLIOTT
Online Transition

- Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning supporting online transition for students and faculty
- Syllabi can be changed to adapt to online learning
- Students can opt to take classes Pass/Fail
- Drop/add now an option to the last day of class
- SETS (teaching evaluations) only to be used for personal reflection
- An additional year to be added to the clock for tenure-track faculty (pending board approval)
Plan. Adapt. Communicate.

New Access resources to help you shift to remote online learning environments. Here are things you should be thinking about now.
MORE DETAILS
Keep Learning

Get ready to transition to remote online learning! UConn's Keep Learning site will help you with tips from your instructors, classmates, and how to set yourself up to be successful in your classes.

Getting Started
Setting up your remote online learning environment.

Learning Online
Learn how to set yourself up for success.

Communications
Communication options-email, phone, HuskyCT, and more.

Academic Support
Where to go when you need support with your academics.